Preface

International development assistance is being mobilized to meet the gap of development finance in Nepal. There is a policy provision of mobilizing foreign assistance transparently based on national needs and priorities by incorporating it in the national budget system. However, by virtue of their nature, some assistance to be received in the technical, social and humanitarian sectors is being mobilized beyond the national budget system. Emphasis has been given to accomplish the expected development results by enhancing effectiveness in the utilization of such assistance.

It has become essential to utilize technical assistance in the areas having a gap of national capacity and expertise. Community-targeted socio-economic development programs have also been implemented with the assistance channelized through International Non-Governmental Organizations. Such assistance has become useful in the areas of community development, humanitarian, disaster and environmental protection related support.

With a view to disseminate a complete set of information on development assistance in order to promote transparency and accountability, detail of such assistance mobilized from outside the budget is being published annually in the 'Statement of Technical and Other Assistance'. Accordingly, detail of the estimated assistance to be mobilized in the FY 2021/22 has been prepared and published based on information provided by the Sector Ministries, the Social Welfare Council, the Development Partners and; available in the Aid Management Information System housed at the Ministry of Finance.

Finally, the publication is believed to be supportive to coordinate and maintain harmonization in implementation of technical and other assistance and; achieve development results through effective utilization of resources. Similarly, it is expected to be useful to all who are interested in the area of development finance.
